COLISEUM AND MUSIC HALL, HOUSTON, TEXAS.
 Center of sports, exhibitions and concerts, this building houses many of Houston's most widely famed events. The Coliseum is separated from the Music Hall by soundproof walls in order that several events may take place at one time. Conventions and meetings of international scope are attracted to it because it is located in Houston,
 "America's fastest growing metropolitan city."

CHATEAU FRONTENAC

Le majestueux Château Frontenac se tient comme un grand château médiéval du côté est de la Terrasse Dufferin, au pied du Bastion du Roi et de la Citadelle. Il est construit à l'endroit du vieux Château Saint-Louis, jadis la résidence Vice-Royale du Gouverneur du Canada. Son immense structure domine le site de Québec et est le centre de l'activité sociale. On peut voir de la Terrasse Dufferin un des plus merveilleux panoramas du monde. Les tourelles d'architecture Normande du Château conservent au vieux Québec le souvenir de la vieille France. L'ameublement et la décoration de ses spacieuses salles publiques sont d'un grand luxe.

The stately Chateau Frontenac stands like a great medieval castle at the eastern end of Dufferin Terrace just below the King's Bastion and the Citadel. It is built over the site of the old Chateau St. Louis once the Vice-Regal residence of the Governors of Canada.

Q:

Classy joint, isn't it? We have a very quaint room - very lovely - overlooking the river. Arrived here from Montreal by bus at 12:30. Made a quick change, had lunch and started on a tour at 2 o'clock. Didn't get back here until about 8 o'clock. We hired a limousine, complete with guide, (rates very reasonable and covered about 80 miles). Visited the Island of Orleans and saw, among other things, the church which the British used as a hospital when they attacked Quebec. Everything is so old - buildings dating back to 1600, and in very good condition, too. Really enjoying myself as I never have before. See you Monday.

We looked all over the wilds to see a bear like this, but it wasn't until we were in the heart of a vast tenting and trailer area that we saw the first one! We ended up sleeping in the car since there wasn't even room to pitch our pup-tent! The tourists around Old Faithful were as thick as the people on Fifth Avenue!

(Monument Avenue and Davis Avenue), Richmond, Va.

INDEPENDENCE HALL, PHILADELPHIA

In this beautiful building, Independence Hall, the most historic spot in the United States, the Declaration of Independence was signed July 4th, 1776. Independence Hall was built during the years 1732-1741 and was originally the State House for the Colony of Pennsylvania. Andrew Hamilton, speaker of the general assembly in 1729 set about purchasing properties upon which to erect the structure, the chief builders of which were the carpenters, Edmond Woolley and Ebenezer Tomlinson. It is located on Chestnut Street between Fifth and Sixth Streets and it was here on June 16th, 1775 that Washington accepted his appointment as General of the Continental Army. The historic "Liberty Bell" is housed in Independence Hall and was rung on the morning of July 8th, 1776 to call all to hear the Declaration of Independence read to the people. The building has been remodelled several times, first in 1802 then in 1828 when the steeple was added and again in 1898 and 1913. The building contains many famed historical collections.

 1st town city councilmen at lunch. My class could not while we talked! Bored in the office & working hard at 2:30. Miss you already, still, hurry home - I can get up with the bus-parking.
 Love to Annie. Heph.
